I gave her my photograph to put into the locket, and I took her down to a Broadway photographer and had her pictures taken. She went out with me two or three nights a week, and we have visited together practically every restaurant in the Broadway district. Once we went to the Cafe Boulevard and I told her of my country and my ambitions. I must have spent a second $2.500 in providing entertainment for the woman whom I expected was to become my wife to the spring.

I have been told that Third Vice-President Williams says the company will appeal from Justes Gaynor's decision. That is all rot. The company has no appeal, as t was not a party to the suit. The only person who can appeal is the histrict-Attorney, and my understanding is that his position is the same Stophen C. Boldwin.
